You Focus on Your Business We'll Worry About Your Technology

No matter what your core business is, technology plays an important role in day-to-day operations. As a result, it is increasingly important that your network and systems are always online and operating efficiently.

With our managed IT services, you'll have a team of IT specialists monitoring, maintaining, supporting, and protecting your network 24/7. We proactively apply patches and perform a host of other proactive measures to keep your systems in excellent working order. We provide end-to-end protection from security threats with endpoint management, Advanced Threat Intelligence and SIEM with 24x7 proactive remote support for network, server, and security events. We also offer full-service Help Desk support for your end users with flexible coverage options including 24x7x365.

Better financial planning - You know how much you're going to spend each month. No more gambling with your budget and productivity. Let HUB Tech help you put your IT budget to better use.

Our team is your team 24/7 - When an issue arises, we are already on the job, taking care of routine maintenance and ensuring your IT systems are operating properly.

Your systems stay optimized - Even when systems aren't exactly down, they can still run slow or inefficiently. Our solution maximizes the value of your IT investment all the time.

Extension of your workforce - Other providers offer remote monitoring and management software, but none can offer peace of mind like HUBcare, with flexible, remote, and on-site support options, allowing your most skilled employees to focus on strategic growth.

Fast proactive problem resolution - With remote monitoring in place, we'll usually see a problem before you do, allowing us to get a jump on the matter with less (or zero!) downtime for you.

Risk management - We can help identify and minimize security risks in your environment.
